

BUILDING for TOMORROW

We're in the building business . . .

At Marne Elk Horn we believe it is our responsibility to do the day-to-day work that makes the communities where we all live stronger. We do that through participation. Marne Elk Horn and our employees invest both time and money in our schools, communities and local economic development efforts to help build a better tomorrow.

Most certainly, our core business is providing superior telecommunications, Internet and cable television services. We do that by investing in outstanding facilities, so that businesses can thrive and residents can benefit today and long into the future.

We're dedicated to:

- ◆ Participating in local economic development
- ◆ Strong communities & vibrant schools
- ◆ State of the art communications system
- ◆ Supporting our local businesses
- ◆ Outstanding cable television & Internet
